

dreamlarge

Chair in Urban Planning

Faculty of Architecture, Building and Planning

The University of Melbourne, Australia, is internationally recognized for its teaching and research. Its excellence is demonstrated by innovative academic programs and a record as Australia's largest recipient of competitive research funding.

The Faculty of Architecture, Building and Planning is a successful and dynamic faculty with an international reputation as a leader in the areas of research and teaching. The Faculty is seeking to appoint a Chair in Urban Planning to provide leadership and vision within its Urban Planning discipline.

The Professor will work with colleagues to set directions for the future, developing programs and initiatives which focus on interdisciplinary approaches that take advantage of the reinvigorated focus of the Faculty and the University under the 'Growing Esteem' strategy.

The successful applicant will have a distinguished international reputation and outstanding research record in urban planning, and the capacity to provide high quality research and academic leadership within the Faculty and University.

For information on the Faculty visit www.abp.unimelb.edu.au

Salary: A highly attractive remuneration package will be negotiated.

Employment Type: This is a full-time (continuing) position.

Enquiries Only To: Professor Tom Kvan, Dean, tel. +61 3 8344 3024, email mhuppatz@unimelb.edu.au

Closing Date: 31 October 2007.

The Council reserves the right to make no appointments or to fill the Chair by invitation at any stage.

For position information and to apply online go to www.jobs.unimelb.edu.au and search under the job title or job no. 0015231.

An Equal Opportunity employer.